

Not-So-Free Lunch with Your GSI

Thursday, 2/23, 12:30, International House Dining Facility

Meet in front of I-House at 12:23

I hereby invite the undergraduates in Econ 100b Section 103 to join me for lunch at “The International House Dining Facility.” The I-House dining facility is one of my standard hangouts — an all you can eat buffet style lunch featuring a variety of international types of cuisine. It is located at the end of Bancroft (address: 2299 Piedmont Ave.).

Please join me for lunch, casual conversation, and economics if you wish. Lunch will be at 12:30 on Thursday, 2/23. Please meet outside the International House on the front steps no later than 12:23. If you are late, proceed up to the dining facility, which is located on the second floor (not the café). You can get in as late as 1:30. The people at the front desk can help you. The cost of lunch is approximately $6 per person.

Lunch for 100b is a custom in the Berkeley Economics Department that was practiced by Prof. Brad DeLong.
