TEACHING EVALUATION SUMMARY

Each semester, the University of Michigan solicits feedback from students regarding their opinion on a range of topics related to their course. Each student ranks their opinion between 1 (strongly disagree) and 5 (strongly agree). The table below demonstrates the unweighted and weighted average of the response to “The instructor was an excellent teacher”, and includes the university and school’s median, 25th and 75th percentile. It excludes teaching in Winter semester 2008 and at Albion College, as I do not have those evaluation reports. In all courses, I fall between the university median and 75th percentile.
