Half Dome

location: United States (California), North America height: 8,836 feet

first technically climbed: 1957, Royal Robbins

notes:

Despite its appearance as a “half,” this is an optical illusion. Half Dome was formed from the Yosemite valley as it currently appears.

The North Face logo is based on Half Dome.

Tourists can ascend the back, domed, side via a set of cables attached to the rock face.