MIDDLE EAST LIBRARIANS ASSOCIATION

Edward A. Jajko	(Yale)	President
David Partington	(Harvard)	Vice President-Program Chairperson
Marsha McClintock	(Ohio State)	Secretary-Treasurer
Chris Filstrup	(NYPL)	Editor

MELA Notes is being published now three times a year, in February, May and October. It is distributed to members of the Association and to non-member subscribers. Membership dues of $5.00 bring the Notes and other mailings. Subscriptions are still $3.00 per calendar year, or $1.50 per issue for most back numbers. Address dues, requests for membership information or subscriptions to Marsha McClintock, Secretary-Treasurer MELA, Ohio State University Main Library, 1858 Neil Avenue Mall, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

MELA NOTES 18, October, 1979

PRELUDE TO THE 1979 ANNUAL MEETING OF MELA by Marsha McClintock

There are many important issues facing MELA in 1979, issues which the membership in general should consider for the upcoming November meeting in Utah. Among these issues are: broadening of the membership of the organization; upgrading the appearance of our publications; increasing the output of research and publication within MELA; and distributing more widely current research and publications. I would like to discuss these four issues in brief, here in the MELA Notes, and hopefully precipitate discussion at the annual business meeting in Salt Lake City, on November 7th.

Membership: At the present time, MELA has two classes of members, professional and associate. The professional members are those whose work on the Middle East is full-time on a professional level. Associate members are those working on a professional level part-time, professional level full-time with only part-time devoted to the Middle East, non-professional staff, and Middle East scholars or other interested people outside of the library field. To emphasize MELA as a professional librarian's association, I, as secretary, would like to suggest the inclusion of professional librarians, regardless of full or part-time status in the professional membership category. Associate membership should be used to bring in many interested scholars in the field who should know what is going on in the bibliographic world. This brings us to the subject of expanding our membership to try to include those people who should know more about Middle East libraries and librarianship but may not. This category, in my mind, includes scholars in the teaching fields, or even people in government and business.

The present membership of about 200 people could easily expand by 25% bringing in many librarians working half-time on the Middle East and encouraging a wider membership in the associate category. This would further the goals of communication and cooperation stated in the MELA By-laws.

Upgrading Publications: The next area of concern is the Association's publication, MELA Notes. The contents of the Notes over the years has been commendable. MELA has published many articles of great value. However, very few people outside of our membership have ever seen the Notes or subscribe to them. The present coverless, mimeographed format, I think may have something to do with this. The quality of the publication suffers not in the content of the writing but in the presentation of materials. I think many of us, when given the choice, would rather have an article published in the International Journal of Librarianship or have a review appear in Choice, not only because more people will read it and benefit from it, but because these journals, for whatever reason, are more prestigious than MELA Notes. I feel the quality of the articles in the Notes is quite high, but the problem always exists of losing publications to other, more widely distributed, better indexed publications. I feel we could alter this trend by 1) upgrading the physical appearance of the Notes, within the constraints of the budget, 2) followed by an organized push to have the Notes indexed in as many major indexes and bibliographies as possible (work on this has already gone on), and 3) work on distributing the Notes to a wider audience of people who truly need the valuable bibliographic information printed in each issue.

It is up to the membership to decide whether we as a group are satisfied with a small internal publication for our own edification, or whether with only a reasonable amount of work on the part of the editor, the secretary/treasurer and any other interested individuals, we should attempt to distribute the knowledge and information developed within the organization and make it known to the world outside MELA.

Research and Publication: The last topic for discussion is research and publication, again one of the organizational goals according to the By-laws. There has been no cooperative publication of the organization since the Ann Arbor workshop on cooperation in 1975, and the Arabic Script Union List on microfiche. There are so many projects, such as preparation of teaching materials, subject bibliographies, shared acquisitions projects, which could be developed within the organization that it seems a shame we have done so little in the past.

What are your ideas concerning these questions facing MELA? Do you see other topics of importance facing us? What would you like to see MELA do next year? Or this year? Please bring your ideas to the business meeting in Utah or send them to me if you are unable to attend. We can still discuss your written suggestions at the meeting. I look forward to hearing from each of you. Thank you, as always, for your responses and your interest in a working, developing Middle East Librarians Association.

COLLATION - News of Members

Veronica Pantelidis has published The Arab World: Libraries and Librarianship, 1960-1976: A Bibliography (Mansell, 1979; $13.25). This work is a comprehensive guide to sources of information on libraries and librarianship in the Arab countries. 900 items include print, microform, and cassette formats and are mostly in English. Material is arranged by country and by subject under country.
