The following guide is intended to assist researchers who have little or no familiarity with researching the law of the European Union. This guide does not purport to provide a comprehensive list of sources, nor does it offer sophisticated research techniques for the advanced researcher.

Preparation for Research

- Take time to think about your topic before starting research.
- Set preliminary boundaries for your topic.
- Note some important keywords and phrases.
- Plan to follow standard methods of legal research:
  - Secondary sources
  - Legislation
  - Case Law
  - Specialized sources
  - Update research
- Perhaps consult research guides to plan your research strategy. E.g.,
  - This one!
  - Cornell’s Nuts and Bolts of European Union Law Research [http://www.lawschool.cornell.edu/library/guides/eu/eusemb.html].
- Promise yourself to keep a research log.

♠♠♠♠

Secondary Sources

Secondary source materials are typically found in periodicals, books, and internet sources.

1. Finding Periodical Sources

- Periodical sources are best used for current analysis and specific topics.
To find periodicals:

- Use subject periodical indexes to find relevant materials.

  - In print...
    - Legal Journals Index (1986-) [Ref Coll: Indexes Legal jo; also on WESTLAW (LJI-INDX)]. Indexes journals devoted to European law, including European Communities and Member States.
    - European Legal Journals Index (1993-) [Ref Coll: Indexes European]. Indexes journals published in Europe, in English, devoted to laws of European Communities and Member States.
    - Index to Foreign Legal Periodicals (1960-) [Ref Coll: Indexes Index to; also online, see below]. Indexes journals focusing on international law, comparative law, and the law of non-common law jurisdictions.
    - Current Index to Legal Periodicals (1961-) [Ref Coll: Indexes Universi; also on WESTLAW (CILP)]. Weekly index to very recent journal articles.

  - Online...
• European Integration Current Contents
  [http://www.law.harvard.edu/programs/JeanMonnet/TOC/index.html]. Provides access to tables of contents of journals relevant to European Integration, including law.
  - ♠Tip: Updated biweekly, so is a source of very current materials.
  - ♠Tip: This site is linked through the Law Library homepage under its former title, Harvard Jean Monnet Table of Contents Service.

• LegalTrac [linked through Law Library homepage].
  Indexes articles in major law reviews, law journals and legal newspapers. Includes European Union law.

• ♠Tip: European Integration online Papers
  [http://eiop.or.at/eiop/]. A recent interdisciplinary online journal in the field of European integration research.

2. Finding Books

- Books are best used for overviews and less-current research; they tend not to be as timely or topical as periodical sources.

- To find books:
  - Use Lexcalibur, the Law Library's online catalog.
    - ♠Tip: Start your search of the catalog with an “LC (Library of Congress) SUBJECT” search. Use this search: European union countries [keyword]. Refine your search by using the additional subject headings that appear in the entries you find.

    - ♠Tip: To find basic treatises on European Union law, search under “law European economic community countries” or “law european union countries.”

  - ♠Tip: Harvard's European Union Legal Research Guide
3. Finding Internet Secondary Sources

- A wealth of information on European Union law is available on the web, including secondary source materials.

- To find secondary sources on the Internet:

  - Use gateway websites that provide numerous links. *E.g.

    - Europa [http://europa.eu.int; also linked through Law Library homepage]. The vast interinstitutional server of the European Union.
      - Tip: Many of the websites listed in this guide may be accessed directly through the Europa site.

    - Europa@Internet [http://www.uv.es/cde/euinternet/]. Directory of sites with official and unofficial European Union information.

    - European Union Internet Resources [http://www.lib.Berkeley.edu/GSSI/eu.html]. Another directory of EU web sites.

    - Eurolinternet [http://eiop.or.at/euroint/] Yet another one.

      - Tip: Most of these sites also have links to primary sources.

    - Tip: There is so much EU information available on the web that you may be in danger of becoming overwhelmed or chasing red herrings. Keep your searches as specific as possible to focus your internet secondary source research.

    - Tip: As with all internet research, be certain that you check the date and source coverage of the site, and that it bears indicia of reliability (through its author, sponsoring organization, etc.). The Europa site, for example, would appear at first glance to be much more reliable than Joe’s Web Site of European Union Law, where Joe does not identify himself or his sources.

    - Tip: If you find information you believe is useful, print it! (or otherwise make it permanent). Even in the arcane realm of EU law, what’s here online today may be gone tomorrow, when you find you need it.
4. Once You’ve Found Your Secondary Source Citations…

- Pull your print sources!
  - Most European Union law sources in print format will be found in the JX collection, on the Library’s Sub-2 level.
    - Materials with call numbers JX9 EAEC, JX9 EC, JX9 EEC, and JX9 ECSC are shelved in the European Community Document Center, a separate room located through the security gate and behind the Circulation Desk. Most of these materials may only be used in the secure area.
    - Other JX sources are located in the outside stacks on Level Sub-2, against the back wall.
    - Microforms may be requested from the Circulation Desk on Level Sub-2.
    - Tip: “Ref Coll” refers to the Reference Collection. All materials with the call number “Ref Coll” are located on the Library’s Sub-1 level, in the public area behind the Reference Desk.

- Read all sources for content and to refine your topic and keywords.
- Mine the footnotes by looking up articles cited in your sources; look up the articles cited in those sources, etc.
- You’ll know you’re done when you start seeing the same sources cited.

Primary Sources

The University of Michigan Law Library is a European Depository Library. We therefore automatically receive all official EU documents, and we collect many commercial publications as well.

1. European Union Institutions and Their Role in the Legislative Process

- Commission: Acts as the “government” in a Parliamentary system by initiating legislation and submitting proposals to the Council of Ministers.

- Council of Ministers: Represents the Member States. Acts on Commission proposals, and is the final legislative authority. May request the Commission to propose legislation.
- European Parliament: Composed of Representatives directly elected by populations of the Member States. Acts as a forum for debate and comment upon proposed legislation. Committees review proposed legislation, and draft a report and opinion for consideration by the plenary.

- Economic and Social Committee: Composed of members appointed by Member States, representing industry, labor and consumers. May be asked to give an opinion on proposed legislation.

- European Court of Justice: Highest level of authority in the EC. Decides cases interpreting legislation.

2. Types of EU Legislation

- Primary Legislation: The founding Treaties, as amended, and other European Union agreements.

- Secondary Legislation:
  - Regulations: Community laws adopted by the Council of Ministers upon a proposal by the Commission. Directly binding on all Member States, with the force and effect of a national statute.
  - Directives: Community laws adopted by the Council of Ministers upon a proposal by the Commission. Binding upon Member States to which they are addressed with respect to the results to be achieved; Member States may individually choose methods of implementation.
  - Decisions: Community laws, issued by the Commission or Council. Directly binding on those to whom decision addressed.
  - Recommendations: Adopted by the Commission or Council. Have no binding force.
  - Opinions: Written statements by the Commission, Council or Committees. Have no binding force, but indicate policy.
3. Finding Treaties

- All EU legislation is adopted under an article or provision of the Community treaties. Treaties are therefore considered the primary European Union law.

- To find treaties:

  - In print...

    - Official Journal of the European Communities, L Series (see below).

      - ▲ Tip: To find a treaty, use the annual table of contents that appears in the November issue of each year.

  - Online...

    - CELEX (see “Using CELEX”, below).

    - WESTLAW (EU-TREATY) (see “Using WESTLAW and LEXIS”, below).

    - LEXIS (TREATY) (see “Using WESTLAW and LEXIS”, below).

4. Finding Legislation

- The major source of European Union regulations, directives, and other legislation is the Official Journal of the European Communities (“OJ”). Published in several series, plus annex.

  - In print...

- C Series (Information and Notices) (1973-) [J X9 EC.2 J 86c E]. Contains proposed legislation, draft legislation, communications, announcements.

  - Online...

    - EUR-Lex [http://europa.eu.int/eur-lex/en/oj/index.html; also linked through Law Library’s homepage]. Full text of the OJ available within 24 hours of publication.
      - Tip: Only archives texts for approximately one month.

    - CELEX (see “Using CELEX”, below).

    - WESTLAW (see “Using WESTLAW and LEXIS”, below).

    - LEXIS (see “Using WESTLAW and LEXIS”, below).

  - Tip: Prior to the accession of the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland in 1972, the Official Journal was not published in English. Therefore, all pre-1973 citations are made to the French Journal Officiel des Communautés Européennes ("JO"). All legislation in force has subsequently been translated into English in a special edition of the Official Journal (1952-1972) [J X9 EC.2 O32s (Eng ed)].

- To find legislation in the OJ when you have an OJ cite:

  - Look it up...

  - Bluebook citation form: 1981 O.J. (L. 338) 27
    - [year] [series number] [page number]

    - [series number] [page number] [day.month.year]

    - [series number] [day.month.year] [page number]
To find legislation in the OJ when you have a legislative reference or accession number:

- Formats of legislative reference numbers:
  - Regulation:  (EC) 2913/92
    - [Community initials] [number of regulation] [year]
  - Directive or other legislation: 93/13 (EC)
    - [year] [number of act] [Community initials]

  Tip: Note that regulations are listed with the year last, while other forms of legislation are listed with the year first. This means that directives, commission decisions, and recommendations can have the same citation! For example, 93/13 (EC) could refer to a directive or a decision. Therefore, you must know what type of legal act you have in order to cross-refer to an OJ cite.

- Use an index that cross-references legislative reference numbers and OJ cites.

  In print...

    - Tip: In this work, under each year, regulations are given first and directives, etc. follow.

  - Directory of Community Legislation in Force (1984-) [Ref Coll: Indexes Director; JX9 EC A D598 C73 L5 (all but latest)]. Subject-indexed. Use to convert non-OJ cites to OJ cites. Published every six months, in June and December. (Also online; see below.)
- Online...

  - Directory of Community Legislation in Force [http://www.europa.eu.int/eur-lex/en/lif/index.html]. The online version is updated monthly; covers both proposed and enacted legislation. Full-text retrieval is also available for most acts indexed.

  - WESTLAW, LEXIS (see “Using WESTLAW and LEXIS”, below).

- To find legislation by topic:
  - Use a subject index.

- In print...

  - Use any of the cross-referencing indexes listed above.

    - Tip: This digest is cumulated annually and published as European Current Law Yearbook (1992-) [Ref Coll: FL6 E893 C976 L41]. The precursor to this digest, dating from 1973-1991, is entitled European Law Digest [J X9 EC.62 E89Ld].

  - Index to the Official Journal of the European Communities (1978-) [J X9 EC.2 J86X5 E] Appears monthly and is cumulated annually. The Alphabetical section is indexed by subject.

5. Finding Legislative Documents

- Online...
  - Use any of the online sources listed for cross-referencing, above.
  - Tip: When using subject indexes for EU law, you may find that common American law subject headings are not useful; the European legal vocabulary, even in English, can be somewhat different. If you are having trouble locating a relevant subject, look at your secondary sources and determine what language the author is using to describe your issue; try using that language as a subject heading.

To find Commission Documents (“COM docs”):

- These are working documents of the Commission, including proposed legislation, broad policy documents, or reports on policy implementation. Some COM docs called “white papers” or “green papers.” Useful for determining legislative intent.
- Citation form: COM(82) 192
  - [Committee initials] [(year)] [consecutive number]
- In print...
  - Commission of the European Communities Documents (1983-) [J X9 EC.21 C734d (latest three years); earlier volumes on microfiche at Micro 10 S208]
    - Tip: Many COM docs are also published in the C series of the OJ, but these do not include the important Explanatory Memorandum.
  - Bulletin of the European Union (1968-) [J X9 EC.2 B93e; also online (see below)]. Reports on the activities of the Council and Commission. Discusses proposed legislation, including information about its purpose and background. Includes numerous footnotes and references to the OJ.
    - Each volume is indexed, and a cumulative index is published annually.
    - Tip: The Bulletin usually runs four to six months behind in publication.
  - Tip: Later reports are available online (see below).

  - Online...

    - PreLex [http://www.europa.eu.int/prelex/apcnet.cfm?CL=en]. Follows all Commission proposals and other communications through the legislative process. Tells what stage a proposal has reached.

- To find Parliamentary Documents: These are working documents of the European Parliament, including committee action, explanatory reports, draft opinions, opinions, and voting records.
  - Legislative reference format: Doc A3 0380/91
    - [document designation] [series] [document number] [year]
  - In print...

    - Session Documents/Report (1985-) [microfiche at Micro 10 S428]. Contains committee action, explanatory reports, and draft opinions.
Online…

- EUROPARL [http://www.europarl.eu/int/sg/tree/en/lm.htm]

- CELEX (see “Using CELEX”, below).

Tip: Parliamentary Opinions and Minutes (including voting records) are published in the C series of the OJ.

To find Council Documents. Very little working documentation is published by the Council of Ministers.

In print…

- Review of the Council’s Work (1972-) [JX9 EC.25 A641a]
  Contains a summary of the Council’s activities in a given year.

Online…

- CELEX (see “Using CELEX”, below).

Tip: The Council’s Common Positions are published in the C series of the OJ.

To find Economic and Social Committee Documents. This Committee publishes its opinions and other communications.

In print…

- Annual Report (1973-) [JX9 EC.28 E19 A615]. Summarizes and documents the work of the Committee in a given year.
6. Finding National Implementing Legislation

- EU directives are implemented individually by Member States as part of States’ national law.

To find national implementing legislation:

- In print...
  - National Implementing Measures to Give Effect to the White Paper of the Commission on the Completion of the Internal Market (1994-) [JX9 EC.21 N277 I34 M48 I6]. Issued twice yearly. Indexes EU legislation broadly by subject, including official citations, deadlines for implementation, and citations to official sources for Member States’ legislation.

- Online...
  - CELEX (see “Using CELEX,” below).

    - Tip: Choose the heading “European Union Policies—Summaries and Legislative Follow-up.” Select a topic, then click on “National Implementing Measures.”

- Tip: These lists of national implementing legislation tend to be very out of date. While they provide a good starting point, be sure to update your Member States research carefully!
7. Finding Case Law

- EU case law is reported in opinions issued by the European Court of Justice and the Court of First Instance.

- ✴ Tip: Cases are initially published in French (the operating language of the court) and in the language in which the case was argued. All cases are eventually translated into all languages of the European Community, but this can take up to two years.

- To find cases when you have a citation:

  - In print...
    - If your citation is to E.C.R., look in Reports of Cases before the Court of Justice and the Court of First Instance (European Court Reports) (1954-) [JJX9 EC.6 R425].
      - The official reporter of the Courts. It contains both court decisions and opinions of the Advocates-General.
      - The Law Library collects this reporter in both English and French, and also subscribes to slip opinions for both courts in both languages. French language slip opinions are usually available before the English.
      - ✴ Tip: The official reporter is less current than the commercially published reporters, typically running from several months to several years behind.
    - If your citation is to C.M.L.R., look in Common Market Law Reports (1962-) [JJX9 EEC.5 C73].
      - The most commonly cited commercial reporter. Much more current than the official reporter, however it does not reprint all cases. It also contains selected national court decisions.
    - If your citation is to CEC (CCH) or to Common Mkt. Rep. (CCH), look in European Union Law Reporter (1962-) [LLF: Common Mkt].
      - Very current looseleaf service. Does not reprint all cases. Also contains selected national court decisions.
Online...

- European Court of Justice homepage

- CELEX (see “Using CELEX”, below).

- WESTLAW, LEXIS (see “Using WESTLAW and LEXIS”, below).

To find cases by topic:

- Use a digest or similar case-finding tool:

  In print...

    - Tip: This digest is cumulated annually and published as European Current Law Yearbook (1992-) [Ref Coll: FL6 E893 C976 L41]. The precursor to this digest, dating from 1973-1991, is entitled European Law Digest [JX9 EC.62 E89Ld].

  - Butterworth’s EC Case Citator and Service [Ref Coll: Indexes Butterwo]. Listing of cases by official case number, name of first party, treaty provision, regulation, directive, decision, name in common usage, keyword.
    - Tip: This service is updated by supplements, which appear approximately twice yearly.

  - European Union Law Reporter (1962-) [LLF: Common Mkt]. Volume 4 of this service contains a subject index under the “Topical Index” tab.

  - Digest of Case Law Relating to the European Communities (1981-) [JX9 EC.6 D572 1981]. Not very current; typically runs three to four years behind.

- European Court of Justice Homepage

- WESTLAW, LEXIS (see “Using WESTLAW and LEXIS”, below).

Updating Your Research

- Before completing your research, you will want to make sure that it is as current as possible, and that you are aware of any planned or proposed changes in policy or legislation or any upcoming cases that may affect your issues.

- To update your research
  - Use current awareness tools.
    - In print... E.g.,
        - Tip: The Europe Documents section may give texts of proposed legislation. The European Library section provides full bibliographic information and brief summaries of recent publications.
        - Tip: Commonly referred to as Agence Europe, after its publisher.
      - Proceedings of the Court of Justice and of the Court of First Instance of the European Communities (1973-) [JX9 EC.6 A188 E; also online (see below)]. Weekly publication containing summaries of judgments and Advocates-General opinions, as well as listings of new cases to be brought before the Court.
        - Tip: Issues are generally received eight to ten weeks after the judgment is handed down.
    - Online...
      - Tip: If you are doing research online, the currency of your research will depend on the currency of your database. ALWAYS check the scope notes for date coverage and frequency of updates; if these notes are not readily available, run a simple date search to determine currency.
• Spicers Centre for Europe Abstracts [available on WESTLAW; see “Using WESTLAW and LEXIS for EU Legal Research”, below]. An abstracting service that indexes and cross-references a large body of materials, including all official documents originating from the Commission and other Community institutions, as well as many official and quasi-official news releases and press sources covering all EU affairs.

• European Report [available on WESTLAW, LEXIS (see “Using WESTLAW and LEXIS “, below)].

• Legislative Observatory

• PreLex

• European Integration Current Contents

• Proceedings of the Court of Justice and of the Court of First Instance of the European Communities
  o Tip: Online between one and two weeks after a judgment is handed down.

• Other current awareness tools on WESTLAW and LEXIS (See “Using WESTLAW and LEXIS”, below.)

♠♠♠♠ Using SCAD

- SCAD (Service Centrale Automatisé de Documentation)

- SCAD is no longer being updated as of 3/1/01. Although SCAD is currently still available as an archive, it is unclear how long this will continue to be the case.
The database is divided into four “sectors”:

- Sector A: Community legislation
- Sector B: Official publications
- Sector C: Articles from periodicals
- Sector D: Opinions from the two sides of the industry
- In addition, a “News Update” section provides access to a selection of the most recent documents on the activities of the European Union.

Indexes sources from the L and C Series of the OJ, documents from the European Parliament, other official publications published by EU institutions, articles from over 1500 journals dealing with EU issues, and opinions and position papers from EU-related industries.

The database is searchable in two ways:

- General Search: Permits searching on such terms as sector, domain, words in title or abstract, etc.
  - Tip: Do a broad search on one term first, then limit by adding other terms.

- Search on a Number: Permits searching for a legislative document when the legislative reference number or OJ cite is known.
  - Tip: The result will include the legislative reference number.

Search results may be displayed by cite, bibliographic fields, text fields, or all fields.

- Tip: Use the all fields display. This supplies numerous pieces of information about a reference, including keywords and domains, which may then be searched to provide additional relevant references.

- Tip: The result will include the legislative reference number AND OJ cite for every legislative document referenced. Therefore, SCAD may be used as a cross-reference tool.

Using CELEX

- CELEX (Communitatis Europae Lex) is the document database of the European Union.

CELEX includes four principal groups of documents:

- Legislation: Includes treaties, international agreements, EU secondary legislation, and national implementing legislation of Member States.
- Case Law: Includes decisions from the European Court of Justice, the Court of First Instance, and opinions of the Advocates-General.

- Preparatory Documents: Includes Commission proposals, Common Positions of the Council, and opinions of the Economic and Social Committee.

- Parliamentary Questions: Includes written and oral questions of the European Parliament addressed to the Commission and the Council.

The CELEX document database includes:

- Official Journal: Includes the entire content of the L Series of the OJ. It offers partial coverage of the C Series (the information section of the C Series is not available).

- European Court Reports: Includes all case law from the European Court of Justice and the Court of First Instance.

The CELEX database is available online at three sites:

- “Real” CELEX [http://europa.eu.int/celex/htm/celex_en.htm].
  - This site is available by subscription only. The Law Library subscribes and can provide you with a password.
  - Real CELEX is fully searchable in each of the 11 official languages of the EU. Most documents are full-text.
  - The database is updated weekly; most of the OJ is online within days of its publication.
  - Tip: Real CELEX is not a particularly user-friendly database. Searching is complicated, and results can be difficult to interpret. If you plan to use real CELEX, go first to “About CELEX” and follow the links to the “Online User Guide” and the “Online Demonstration” and spend some time getting used to the database before you start research.

- CELEX on WESTLAW
  - The CELEX database on WESTLAW is made up of six subsidiary databases (Legislation, Treaties, Preparatory Documents, Cases, Parliamentary Questions, National Provisions), which can be searched individually or as a whole.
- Tip: Attached to this research guide is a sheet with database identifiers, quick tips and strategies for searching CELEX on WESTLAW.

- The CELEX database runs from eight to 12 weeks behind the publication of the OJ.

- Tip: WESTLAW CELEX is more familiar and user-friendly than Real CELEX, but it's less current. It's a trade-off.

  - CELEX on LEXIS (NOTE WARNING BELOW)

  - Legislation and legislative documents from the CELEX database appear in the file European Communities Law (ECLAW). This file is composed of five individually searchable subfiles (EC Legislation (LEGIS), EC Parliamentary Questions (PARLQ), EC Preparatory Acts-Abstracts (PREP), EC Treaties (TREATY), National Provisions Implementing Directives (NATPRV)).

  - Cases from the CELEX database appear in the file European Court of Justice Cases (EC).

  - Warning: The CELEX files on LEXIS are no longer being updated!! Therefore, the material on LEXIS is NOT necessarily current. If using CELEX on LEXIS, remember to update your research!
