The Wooly Enquirer
18 September 2011
It’s already two weeks into the semester, and already so many things have happened... The Order of Magicks has taken roost in the lands of Highlands, and a certain individual of Dilanese descent has been sighted within the realms of Castle Carlos. President Gibbs arrived on the scene, but could not do anything because his car was full. Meanwhile, thousands of miles away, a lonely Bears fan had to face his worst fears while stranded on a lost island. A large crop of 4th Dougians have harvested their way out of here, to lands of Free Dental, to train-filled regions, to places where ChemE is the battle cry. But out there in the lagoons of Duncan’s rock, there lies hope for the People of the Redwood.

The McMasters Gym

A place so over-engineered that even if you were to suddenly nap like Fornaess while lifting several hundred pounds of weights, no “unfortunate gym accidents” can possibly occur. President Gibbs himself declared that, “the gym is 100% moose-proof, brah. I riveted it together myself. What did you think I was gonna do with all those [ba-cons]?” Robert Forsyth was named Chief Aerodynamics Engineer in the project. When asked as to how he was awarded the contract, he blankly stated, “I am not a crook.”

Cedar Point De-In Brief-ing
✧ There are few things in this world that measure up to Iron Dragon’s second lift hill.
✧ Disaster Transport, officially Jeff’s favorite ride.
✧ Several Nonchalant people were sighted in the vicinity of Magnum. All security attack hounds, be advised.
✧ Ocean Motion just received several awards from the Russian Federation of Thrill Seekers. Unfortunately, they are all in Russian and I have no idea what they mean.
✧ Fiebs was with us in spirit on Millennium Force. Faster! Faster!
✧ Robert Forsyth would like to correct that Fiebs was actually with us in spirit on Gemini. Blue train pulled it out on the might of Fiebs’ psychic energies. (And John Denver’s)
✧ Gold bin rules!
✧ I wish to discount any rumors regarding the coincidence of avid Mean Streak-ists all getting sick the next day.
✧ Confirmed: No wombats of mass destruction were found on-site.
✧ Iron Dragon color scheme. So pro. So dragon.
✧ Robert’s been mistreated, guys. And cheated. He’s going back to West Virginia.

That concludes today’s entry into this most noble of wooly literature.
May ye cave stay warm and dry!
