Optical plasma measurements

- Ground based Fabry Perot Interferometers can measure plasma temperatures and drifts at high latitudes
- Drifts show a twin cell convection pattern, anti-sunward at midnight

Citations