

Kendra Defends Herself

A 32-bar Strathspey for Two Couples
Recommended Tune: Macpherson's Farewell

Forming a committee

1-8 First man casts off, followed by first woman. He goes between second couple and they go up the set three-in-line, followed by first woman. On the last bar of the phrase first man and the second couple turn over the right shoulder and dance down to end in a line of four, second couple facing in on their own sides, first couple facing their own sides.

Elusive Advisors

9-16 Reel of four across, but instead of making their final pass, first couple dance three quarters round each other by the left and pull back their right shoulders, to end with the man above, facing the women's side, and the woman below, facing the men's side.

The Oral Defense

17-20 They give each other right hands and second couple joins in for right hands across all the way around

21-24 Circle four hands round to the right

The Committee Confers and the Congratulatory Handshake

25-28 First woman dances out the men's side, across the top of the set, and through second place on the women's side, while

First man and second couple circle back to the right. Second couple ends in first place on their own sides, while first man dances down to meet his partner

29-32 First couple turns by the right to end in their progressed places.
