Dear Sir,
Monticello, May 9, 1817

Sir, I accede to the order of the Board, and the two days vacated from other business, by allotting to it the plan of the total improvements in the grounds of the University, with the strict understanding that, for my part, I shall not be surprised to receive any part of the plan in the most imperfect state. I am disposed to think that the plan, as here stated, will be a most satisfactory and complete one. I shall therefore be glad to hear from you how far the plan of the commonly designated University is to be adhered to, and what alterations are to be made in the present state of the grounds. I am further disposed to think that the plan, as here stated, will be a most satisfactory and complete one. I shall therefore be glad to hear from you how far the plan of the commonly designated University is to be adhered to, and what alterations are to be made in the present state of the grounds. I am further disposed to think that the plan, as here stated, will be a most satisfactory and complete one. I shall therefore be glad to hear from you how far the plan of the commonly designated University is to be adhered to, and what alterations are to be made in the present state of the grounds.

The plan consists of the park and its boundaries to be made by a stone wall, in front of the seat of the lower part of the park, on which they were, going from north to south. The colonnade will be of square brick pillars, covered with the Roman entablature. The colonnade will be of square brick pillars, covered with the Roman entablature. It will be the least expensive pavilion because the lower story will be covered by the conservatory which will also have study rooms and ought to build first. BB pavilions having the same dimensions in general. Map but exhibiting different styles or orders of architecture.

CC, DD, BB, DD. A better building which might be completed in the last details or perfect a specimen of good architectural taste as can be seen in Indian pyramids below, a colonnade A room for fetes or lectures, above a circular lecture room with the dome. The pavilions to the east and south of Principal Piazza have rooms on both floors, are married, this not requiring more than two rooms each, as it is said to have up to 1000 people and arrangements...

47 million Americans move each year

Americans move every 2-3 years on average
Like many other successful ventures, the concept for U-Haul was provoked by need. After World War II the population of the United States became more mobile and migratory. There existed an obvious widespread need for do-it-yourself moving equipment on a one-way, nationwide basis. It was the visionary approach of U-Haul that recognized this need, acted upon it and literally created an industry.

Load light-weight, irregularly shaped items on top.

Stack boxes of similar size and weight.

Load desks and dressers with their drawers against the wall of the moving van to keep them from opening.

Place washer and dryer near the front, on the opposite side of the refrigerator for even weight distribution.

Pack electronics and other fragile items in the Mom's Attic™ area over the cab.

Load heaviest items toward the front of the moving van – as close to the deck as possible.

Place refrigerator in the front right section of the moving van.

Pack a special box with the tools and essentials you'll need right away. Load it last, unload it first.

Use the tie-downs on the inside walls of the moving van to secure mattresses and tables.
