Set up Rendezvous Messaging

Do you want to turn on Rendezvous messaging?

iChat can exchange messages and files with people whose computers are nearby and on your network. iChat finds and displays nearby iChat users for you, and lets them see you.

If you know the people on your network, and want to chat or exchange files with them, turn on Rendezvous messaging. If you connect to the network using a modem, or are in a public setting using AirPort wireless networking, you may want to leave it turned off.

For help getting started with iChat, choose iChat Help from the Help menu.
