The Schroder House was built in the Netherlands in 1924 by Gerrit Rietveld for Mrs. Truus Schrader and her three kids.
Mrs. Schroder co-designed the house and had three specifications for the house: 1. A bed should be able to fit in the room in at least 2 different positions. 2. Each room should have direct water supply and drainage. 3. Each room should have a door that gave access to the outside.